Wilson College

The legacy continues...

As an educational institution going back to 1832, it began as Ambroli School in Girgaum, later witnessing several changes in site and name, eventually being called Wilson School. A collegiate section from which Wilson College evolved, started in 1836.

The founder of the institutions was Rev. John Wilson D.D., F.R.S. of the Scottish Missionary Society. John and his wife Margaret arrived in Bombay on February 14, 1829, learnt the local languages and with great zeal set up schools for boys and girls of all castes and classes.

John Wilson's work went beyond the field of education. He was a Linguist, an Orientalist, a Reformer, and an Author. In recognition of his service to the cause of education, social awakening, and scholarship, the Department of Archives, Government of Maharashtra, in 2000 posthumously honoured Dr. John Wilson as one of the Seven Founders of Modern Bombay.

The pioneering work in higher education began a quarter of a century, before the establishment of any official body for this purpose. Dr. Wilson's vision and foresight saw the establishment of the University of Bombay in 1857. On 14th December, 1861, the collegiate section of the Wilson Institution under the name of Free General Assembly's Institution became the first privately owned, non-government institution to be affiliated to the University.

For many years, both the school and the College section were housed in one building, a site for the College was secured at Chowpatty and the present College building was opened on 14th March 1889 largely through the efforts of Dr. Mackichan. Thereafter the Institute was called Wilson College. Several extensions were made thereafter, to meet the needs of an ever-expanding student community.

The high intellectual rigour and moral excellence of the people, who guided the College, saw three of its first four Principals as Vice-Chancellors of the University of Bombay, followed by many distinguished alumni holding similar positions.

Fostering a tradition of liberalism and freedom, the Scottish Principals inspired many students to be at the centre stage of the freedom struggle - Usha Mehta, Acharya Kripalani, S.A. Dange, Aloo Dastoor, B.G. Kher, to mention a few.

We are proud to have Prime Minister Morarji Desai along with other Bharat Ratna recipients P.V. Kane and D.K. Karve, and renowned Indian-English Poet Nissim Ezekiel as alumni of this Institution.

In 1952, the Management of the College came under an autonomous Board of Governors in India. Since 1963, the College is functioning under the Management of the John Wilson Education Society (JWES). Wilson College is a Christian Minority Institution under the Church of North India.

A three-year integrated programme leading to the Degree of Bachelor of Science (B.Sc.) was introduced by the University of Mumbai in June 1977.

Today Wilson College is one of the few Colleges in Mumbai which offer a wide array of subjects in the Arts and Science along with undergraduate self-financing courses in Management Studies, Mass Media, Information Technology, B.A.F. and post graduate course in M.Sc.(IT)

The students of Wilson College are from nearly every ethnic, religious, and social group of the country. Our extremely diverse student body is our strength and a source of pride contributing to an open learning environment.

The College Motto Fides, Spes, Caritas - Faith, Hope, Love - Vishwas, Asha, Prem speaks of Faith in God, the Love that steers us through life and Hope that the College can achieve the utmost moral, spiritual, and intellectual excellence.

Wilson College has witnessed the turn of two centuries. In 2004, the Postal Department, Government of India honoured founder Dr. John Wilson by issuing a Special Postal Cover as a tribute to the journey of this diminutive school which started at the residence of Dr. Wilson and developed into a multi-disciplinary, University-affiliated College. In 2007, to commemorate the completion of its 175 glorious years, a stamp and first day cover of Wilson College was issued.

In February 2004, the College was first accredited 'A' Grade and in November 2011 and in September 2017, the College was re-accredited 'A' Grade by NAAC.
